Are you looking for a way to stand out at this year's German-American Business Forum and promote your company, products and services among the German-American business community?

Choose an advertisement in the event booklet of the German-American Business Forum!

More than 250 German company representatives with interest in expanding in the US market are expected to attend, as well as representatives of politics and economics.

The booklet will be distributed at the event to 250-300 attendees. Among them are high-ranking business leaders, and economic developers from various industries.
